

For the Love of Data Management!

"Where is the fun in data management?", Fran Lightsom mused one day. Lightning talks from data managers, data stewards, archivists, data professionals, and scientists about why we love our jobs. Here we present the projects we are working on, share lessons learned, and commiserate when the Entity and Attribute metadata section is not filled out...

More ideas are welcome!

Point of Contact yet to be determined.